

The members of the I. O. C. assemble each year for the purpose of discussing ways and means of furthering the Olympic Games and sport in general. These annual meetings also serve to strengthen the bonds of friendship between the different members and provide the opportunity for establishing new contacts with the leaders of Olympism in the host country. The site of the session is changed each year, as in the case of the Olympic Games.

C. D.