

VI. Winter Olympic Games Oslo, 1952.

The flags of the various nations at the opening ceremony.
 Les drapeaux des différentes nations à l'occasion de l'ouverture des Jeux.

VI^{es} Jeux olympiques d'hiver, Oslo 1952.

La loge royale à l'ouverture des Jeux. — The Royal stand at the opening ceremony of the Games. Back row right to left: H. R. H. Princess Marie Adelaide of Luxembourg, H. R. H. Princess Josephine Charlotte of Belgium, Mr. Avery Brundage (Vice President I. O. C.), H. R. H. Prince Harald of Norway, H. R. H. Princess Ragnhild of Norway who opened the Games and Mr. J. Sigfrid Esdtröm (President of the I. O. C.).

VI. Winter Olympic Games, Oslo 1952.

Egil Nansen, a grand-son of the famous Norwegian explorer, brought the Olympic flame the last part from the long run from Morgedalen to Bislett Stadium at the opening ceremony.

VI. Winter Olympic Games, Oslo 1952.

At Norefjell an olympic ceremony took place. Before the ski competitors assembled, Mr. O. Ditlev-Simonsen, president of the organising committee, makes his speech.