

AVERY BRUNDAGE CITIZEN OF HONOR

The president of the International Olympic Committee has been named an Honorary Citizen of the City of San Francisco for having contributed immeasurably to the welfare of the world through his many social, philanthropic, cultural and athletic activities. He has found time to devote many years to the furthering of the Olympic Games, which are a true-example of sportsmanship through demonstrations in all fields of sports by the outstanding amateur athletes in the world. The Act is signed by Mr. George Christopher, Mayor of the City of San Francisco.

Our congratulations.
