

After the VIII Olympic Winter Games, a group of members of the International Olympic Committee beneath de Coubertin's plaque in Los Angeles.

Eleven members of the International Olympic Committee (the others seen on this picture being guests) pose in sunshine at Huntington Library and Art Gallery during their Tour in Los Angeles after the Olympic Winter Games at Squaw Valley.

In Los Angeles, Dr. Karl Ritter von Halt is laying a wreath on the tomb of the great sportsman William May Garland, who was an active member of the Committee. On the right J.J. Garland, his son, member of the International Olympic Committee for U.S.A. (Between them from l. to r.: Ben G. Waage, Iceland, E. von Frenckell, Finland, Dr. S. Takaishi, Japan.)