

The International Olympic Committee has a new doyen

Although this title has no official significance, it is usual among members of the International Committee to consider its senior member as being its doyen. Owing to the recent death of Mr. Angelo Bolanaki, Dr. Karl Ritter von Halt now inherits this title, as he was elected a member in 1929. We offer him congratulations and our gratitude for many years spent in the service of Olympics. We wish long life to Dr. von Halt, whose experience in the matter of Olympic problems is always much appreciated.
