

*

Messrs. Jean Borotra (left) and Philip Noel-Baker, united for many years in their devotion to the universal cause of sport and bound to an ethic which survives in a difficult world, together received the Olympic Diploma of Merit. On 14th March in London the President of the IOC, with many loyal supporters, warmly congratulated these two renowned recipients.

To everybody's regret, Sir Stanley Rous was unfortunately unable to attend this evening. Lord Killanin therefore asked the Marquess of Exeter, IOC member for Great Britain, to hand over to him the Olympic Diploma of Merit which he was awarded in Vienna.

These three recipients are introduced to our readers on page 595 of the Olympic Review No. 85-86.

