LA DÉMOCRATISATION DU SPORT: MYTHE OU RÉALITÉ (The democratisation of sport: myth or reality), by Yves le Pogam. Published by Editions Universitaires, Jean-Pierre Delarge, 10 rue Mayet, 75006 Paris (FRA) 1979. 232 pages, in French.

This learned treatise constitutes an in-depth study, supported by a wealth of statistical data.

THE GAMES, edited by Marshall Brant. Published by Proteus Limited, Bremar House, Sale Place, London W2 1PT (GBR) 1980. 271 pages, in English.

A highly original idea from Marshall Brant that makes for not only a novel general work on the Olympic Games but also an invaluable documentary tool for the serious historian. The book literally brings the past to life by means of contemporary newspaper cuttings enhanced by full colour and black and white illustrations.

THE GREAT WHITE CIRCUS - HISTORY OF ALPINE SKIING, by H. G. Aróstegui and J. C. Gilabert. Prologue by José Maria Cagigal. Miñon Publishing Ltd, Vazquez de Menchaca 10, Valladolid (ESP), 1980. 235 pages, in Spanish.

The authors have not tried to trace a universal history of skiing, but rather have described Alpine skiing from its beginnings up to its present stage of development as an international competitive sport in the Olympic Games and world-class competition. The pages of this well-documented work are full of references to those eminent personalities who have left their mark on the sport.

WORLD CUP ARGENTINA 78, edited by René Courte. Published by proSport GmbH and Co, Verlag für Sport und Kultur KG, Munich (FRG) 1980. 314 pages, in English, French, Spanish and German.

The official FIFA report on the 1978 world cup tournament in Argentina takes the form of a beautifully illustrated and handsomely presented volume which constitutes an authoritative and fascinating account of all aspects of this great football festival.

COMMENT PERFECTIONNER VOTRE TENNIS (HOW TO PERFECT YOUR TENNIS), by Jack Choquet, published by Editions Amphora SA, 14 rue de l'Odéon, 75006 Paris (FRA) 1980. 173 pages, in French.

The conception of the game of tennis is such that beginners may derive considerable pleasure from taking part after only a very basic grounding. However, once he has assimilated the basic techniques, the player who wishes to adopt a more serious approach will often, in the absence of his tutor, experience difficulties in improving his game and developing new techniques. Mr. Choquet's work provides such players with all the information they are likely to require to ensure the transition from "beginner" to "expert".

FUT-NI (Running), by Kocsis L. Mihály. Published by Sylvester János Nyomda, Kiskar u.6, Szombathely (HUN), 1980. 206 pages, in Hungarian.

A hymn of praise to the virtues of running which recounts numerous outstanding moments in the history of this highly popular sport. A special photographic section at the end includes action pictures and portraits of many great champions and record breakers of the past.
