

Closing ceremony of the XIVth Olympic Winter Games

In the name of the International Olympic Committee, I should like to offer to the Members of the Presidency of the Socialist Federal Republic of Yugoslavia, our deepest gratitude.

On behalf of all those present here in Sarajevo, may I also express our warmest thanks to the people and authorities of Yugoslavia, the Socialist Republic of Bosnia and Herzegovina, the city of Sarajevo and, more especially, the Organising Committee of the XIVth Olympic Winter Games.

Athletes, officials, spectators, members of the media, you have all contributed to these Games and may be proud of their wonderful success.

As this great festival of sport and peace comes to the end, and we must say goodbye to Sarajevo, I am convinced that these Games will remain forever in our hearts and memories.

It is now my duty to declare the XIVth Olympic Winter Games closed. In accordance with our tradition, I call the youth of all the world to assemble in four years from now at Calgary in Canada in order to celebrate with us the XVth Olympic Winter Games.

Dovidjenja Jugoslavio,
Dovidjenja Drago Sarajevo.
