
CINEMA AND OLYMPISM

The film "The Olympic Movement" was shown in Paris on the 18th of January, on the occasion of the World Indoor Games.

The documentary is the first in a series of films which will constitute the video library of the NOCs and FIs. Televisions and video-tape players, donated by Philips, will be sent to the entire Olympic Family at the end of March.

"The Olympic Movement", modelled after the book of the same name, was conceived by Monique Berlioux, Director of the IOC, and Daniel Costelle who directed the film with the technical assistance from the Société Pathé. It was filmed in Lausanne and Senegal in December of 1984.

The book has just been released in a paperback edition to sell for a price of 5 SF. Copies can be ordered from the headquarters of the IOC, Chateau de Vidy, 1007 Lausanne (SUI).
