basketball, or to a caricature of a major sports personality of the last twelve months. Future biennials will feature other sports in turn.

This increasingly successful exhibition is the only one of its kind and aims to highlight a new approach to sport. To encourage and spread sporting ideals, particularly in schools, humour is a light-hearted prop which can counterbalance the sometimes aggressive atmosphere around sport in practice.

The prizes will be awarded on 7th May next.

This year, for the tenth time, the Italian town of Ancona will be raising a smile from sport. From 22nd April to 10th May, the town plays host to artists and cartoonists attending the biennial of sporting wit.

This year the "Riviera del Conero" sports centre, which is organizing the event with the patronage of the Italian NOC, is taking the innovative step of imposing a theme which may be summarized as: sport as leisure, education and competition. The works in the exhibition have duly been chosen because they deal in a particularly humorous or satirical way with one of these three groupings. The second important prize of this occasion, the "Biennial 1989" prize, will go to a drawing on the theme of hunting, canoeing, cycling or
