

BIBLIOGRAPHY

LIVING ANATOMY by Joseph E. Donnelly, published by Human Kinetics Publishers Inc., Box 5076 CHAMPAIGN, Illinois 61825-5076 (USA). 1990. 231 pages in English.

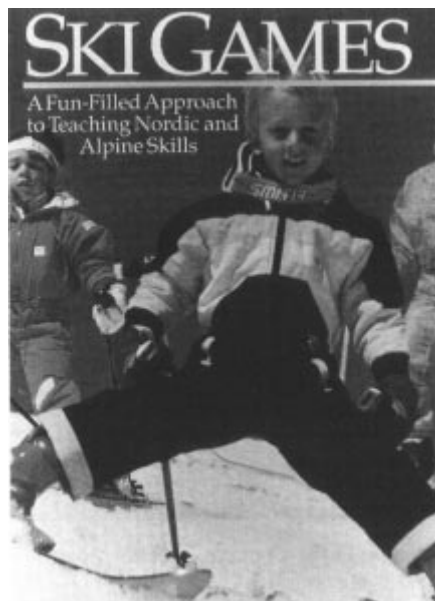

With this work, future physical education teachers and coaches will “learn to recognize the anatomical structures which will help them understand movement, and thus help them to create training and rehabilitation programmes”. The structures of the human body and their various functions are also depicted in hundreds of photographs and illustrations.

SKI GAMES - A FUN-FILLED APPROACH TO TEACHING NORDIC AND ALPINE SKILLS by Laurie Gullion, published by Human Kinetics Publishers Inc., Box 5076 CHAMPAIGN, Illinois 61825.5076 (USA). 1990. 180 pages in English.

Teach children to ski by enjoying themselves. In his book, the author explains the basic techniques of skiing in a simple and original fashion, accompanied by examples of practical activities. Various games are suggested to suit all age groups, and are illustrated by numerous pictures.

ORGANIZING SUCCESSFUL TOURNAMENTS by John Byl, published by Human Kinetics Publishers Inc., Box 5076, CHAMPAIGN, Illinois 61825-5076 (USA). 1989. 176 pages in English. Price : US$ 16.-.

With this guide you can select the tournament best suited to your needs. Five main types of tournament and variations of them are presented and illustrated with the aid of 80 diagrams, tables and game plans.

DICOSPORT, LE DICTIONNAIRE DES SPORTS (Dicospport, the sports dictionary), published by Diffusion Publicité Sports, 9-11 rue Benoît Malon, 92150 SURESNES (FRA). 1989. 733 pages in French. Price : FF 170.-.

Now in its tenth year of publication, Dicospport covers around 50 disciplines, listing details of history, events, competitions, athletes, records, etc. which combine to create a real sports bible.

