

PARTICIPATION AT THE GAMES

Once again, alpine skiing had the greatest number of participants.

Nikolai Gueorguiev, former Secretary General of the Bulgarian NOC, who makes regular studies for the IOC on participation at various Olympic competitions, was naturally interested in those which have just taken place in Albertville.

We publish here several extracts from the research he has just finished. However, these include just participation by sport and country except for biathlon, which we give by event, to mark the first time women have taken part in this sport at the Games. The much more complete study done by Mr Gueorguiev is available at the IOC in limited quantity, as well as those that he has done previously. The athletes who actually took part in the Games number 1808, 490 women from 49 countries and 1318 men from 63 countries. In addition, the COJO was helped by 8647 volunteers.
