

Ormezzano's record

With the Games of the XXVI Olympiad in Atlanta next July, Italian journalist Gian Paolo Ormezzano will be covering his 20th Olympic Games. His Olympic journey began in 1960 at the VIII Winter Games in Squaw Valley, when he was working for the sports daily Tuttosport, for which he covered the Games until 1976. From 1980 to 1994, he acted as special envoy to the Olympic Games for the political newspaper La Stampa. As well as writing the sports column for the weekly Famiglia Cristiana and the children's magazine Il Giornalino, this veteran of Olympism is the author of several works on the history of cycling, football and athletics.

Gian Paolo Ormezzano.

