
Puerto Rico

The NOC, in collaboration with the sport and leisure secretariat of the Puerto Rican government, successfully organized the third drawing and painting competition for children aged 6 to 18. A total of 793 youngsters entered art work on the theme "The Olympic Games".

The winners in the various categories with the NOC president, Héctor Cardona (last row, wearing glasses), and the secretary of the sports and leisure department, Eric Labrador (last row, with moustache).

