One hundred forty-four Lithuanian schools in 33 towns and districts took part in a children's drawing competition on the theme "Oh Sport, you are Nobility". The event was covered by the national press and television, which showed the best of the 748 entries. These drawings will be on display in the Olympic Museum in Lausanne in connection with the 1996 world children's drawing competition.

The 10 winners from each group, with Algis Daumantas, secretary general of the Lithuanian Committee for Fair Play (left) and Vida Venciené, Olympic 10 km cross-country ski champion at the Games in Calgary (centre).
