

Bermuda

Edwin Moses (right) of the United States, double Olympic champion in the 400 metres hurdles competitions in 1976 and 1984, presented the IOC Sport for All trophy to Paul Rowler (left), founder member of the End to End walk. Every year this event attracts some 3,000 participants from among the island's 60,000 inhabitants.

