

Argentina

On Olympic Day 1997, the NOC presented the traditional distinctions for the year rewarding fair play, top performances, a national sports official, a sports journalist, etc. The Argentinian athletes who took part in the Games of the XXVI Olympiad, the Centennial Games, in Atlanta, received their Olympic participants' pins. The IOC Centennial Olympic Games trophy was presented to Noemi Simonetto de Portela in recognition of her contribution to the Olympic Movement. The prizes in the children's drawing, painting and writing competition were also presented.

The winners of the children's competition