

IAKS

Stephan J. Holthoff-Pförtner (below) has just taken over from Erich Schumann as president of the IAKS (International Association for Sports and Leisure Facilities). Holthoff-Pförtner, who is 49 years old, is a lawyer and notary by profession and serves as spokesman for the men's national tennis league teams and as president of the ETUV tennis club whose men's team were German champions in 1997. He is one of the two shareholders of HOPF Holding GmbH which has subsidiaries in the hotel, real estate, property development and sports marketing sectors.

