The XX Olympic Winter Games

It was agreed that the six cities bidding to host the XX Olympic Winter Games in 2006 would go directly into the final phase of the selection process. The order of presentation, established by drawing of lots, is as follows: Klagenfurt (Austria), Zakopane (Poland), Helsinki (Finland), Sion (Switzerland), Poprad-Tatry (Slovakia) and Turin (Italy). The host city will be elected at the 108th IOC Session in Seoul in June 1999.
