

PUBLISHED CONFERENCE PROCEEDINGS

PUBLICATIONS PERTAINING TO SPORT HISTORY arising from the OLYMPIC SCIENTIFIC CONGRESS, OREGON, July, 1984

It was mentioned in ASSH Bulletin Vol.1, .22), that two major publications of interest to ASSH members would be published. Both are now available and details of papers included are provided.

MULLER, Norbert and RUHL, Joachim (Eds). Sport History - an Official Report of the Olympic Scientific Congress
Oregon, 1984. Niederhausen: Schors, 1985.

Richard D. MANDELL: The Olympic Games: past, present and future.

Reet A. HOWELL: Australia's first female Olympians.

John S. HULT: American sportswomen: "Go for the Gold", 1912-1936.

Hiroko SEIWA, Katsuma TAKAHASHI, Yuji HIRANO: Review of the history of women's sports in Japan and their background in relation to the Olympic Games.

Heiner GILLMEISTER: The Flemish ancestry of early English ball games: the cumulative evidence.

Willi PIETER: Korean hwarang and Japanese samuri: a comparison.

Raiko PETROV: Origin and development of the double combat in primary society.

John J. JACKSON, John F. DURKIN: Play: magical or mundane?

Robert Knight BARNEY: The hailed, the haloed, and the hallowed: sport heroes and their qualities: an analysis and hypothetical model for their commemoration.

Betty S. BENISON: Profile of Olympic athletes: the initial motivation, factors and subsequent driving forces behind their success in the games (selected American Olympians).

Wojciech LIPONSKI: A neglected field of history: relations between sport, literature and art.

James A. MANGAN: "Tom Brown" in tropical Africa: idealism and realism in the evolution of imperial education.

David W. BROWN: Imperialism and games on the playing fields of Canada's private schools.

Patrick B. MILLER: Making true men of boys: the origins of the athletic ideal in America.

Richard D. KELLER: A change of heart: some observations on contemporary sports fiction.

Lyle OLSEN: Hemingway's anti-hero and the Olympic Ideal: it breaks my heart.

- Elisabeth S. BRESSAN: Sport in American fiction: no room for Olympism?
- David BLACK: Pindar and the sacrality of the great Games.
- Sharon Kay STOLL: Greek sport: Was it original or a copy? A solution to the Achaean question through epic poetry.
- Walter HARRISON: The uncertain glories of competition in "Chariots of Fire" and "Personal Best".
- Joachim J. RÜHL: The "Olympic Games" of Robert Dover, 1612-1984.
- Liselott DIEM: The Olympic Idea in the philosophy of Pierre de Coubertin (1863-1937).
- Norbert MÜLLER: Claudia SCHMIDT: American authors about Pierre de Coubertin: an evaluation from the European point of view.
- Roland RENSON: From the trenches to the track: the 1920 Antwerp Olympic Games.
- Maynard J. BRICHFORD: Avery Brundage: the man and the collection.
- Barbara SCHRODT: Festival games of Delos.
- Ruth M. SCHELLBERG: Sports arenas of the Greek and Roman eras.
- Peter J. TREADWILL: A socio-historical analysis of sports boarding schools in the U.K. and the U.S.S.R. and their links with the modern Olympic philosophy.
- Valentina P. KOZMINA: International workers' sport and contemporary Olympic movement.
- Floris J. G. van der MERWE: The green and gold in Olympic history.
- John LUCAS: The future of the international Olympic movement
- A. Ljubisa ZECEVIC: Tombstone decoration as a source for this study of the history of physical culture in Medieval Bosnia.
- Natalya PETROVA & Georgi DIMITROV: The Olympic idea of the development of physical education and sports in Bulgaria.
- Jaroslav NOVAK: Cold water procedures, physical activity and diet in curative regimen of "water doctor" Vincent Priesnitz (1799-1851).
- Nancy L. STRUNA: Defining sport in the American colonial experience.
- Ralf C. WILCOX: In or out of the melting pot? "Sport and the immigrant in nineteenth century America.
- Roberta J. PARK: Sports, athletics and the 1915 San Francisco world's fair: an early twentieth century cultural performance.
- John LOWERSON: Sport and national decay: the British and the Olympics before 1914.
- Brian STODDART: Sport, cultural politics and international relations: England versus Germany, 1935.
- Heather BAILEY: Women in sport and dance in the 1970s in Great Britain.

- Maxwell L. HOWELL & Reet A. HOWELL: From localism to regionalism: the sport patterns in the first thirty years of the colony of Queensland 1859-1889.
- Douglad I. COGHLAN: Pros and peds: professional athletics in South Africa before World War I.
- Catherine O'BRIEN: Formative names and events in Soviet physical education.
- Nevrez KUERULUS: Turkish sport history
- Yehiam SOREQ: Siasporal Jewish participation in gymnastic life.
- Leela P. JOSHI & Rajev D. JALNAPURKA: "Mallkhamb" the spectacular Indian gymnastic sport.
- Kaj-Henning LYHNE: A comparative study of the organizing tendencies in Danish society emphasizing the organization of sports, 1961-1986: the shift from German to Swedish gymnastics.
- Roland NAUL: The development of physical education in German secondary schools during the period of the industrial revolution, 1870-1915.
- Hajo BERNETT: The Olympic Games of Los Angeles 1932 as seen by the nationalistic and racial ideology.
- Norbert MÜLLER: Reflections upon the dimensions of fairplay in view of the growing violence in sport.

REDMOND, Gerald (Ed.) Sport and Politics - The 1984 Olympic Scientific Congress Proceedings, Volume 7. Champaign: Illinois: Human Kinetics Publishers, 1986.

Part I: THE ROLE OF GOVERNMENT

Section A: GOVERNMENT INVOLVEMENT IN AUSTRALIA, CANADA AND THE UNITED STATES.

- Roy A. CLUMPNER. Pragmatic Coercion: The Role of Government in Sport in the United States,
- Brian M. PENDLETON. Deuce or Double Fault? The Defection of Tennis Player Hu Na: A Study of China-United States Sport Diplomacy.
- Donald MACINTOSH, C.E.S.FRANKS & Tom BEDECKI. Canadian Government Involvement in Sport: Some Consequences and Issues.
- Richard S. BAKA. Australian Government Involvement in Sport: A Delayed, Eclectic Approach.

Section B: PERSPECTIVES ON ELITE AND MASS SPORT

- James W. RIORDAN. Politics of Elite Sport in East and West.
- Edelfrid BUGGEL. Mass-Sport Activities and Top-Class Athletics: Unity or Contradiction?

Stephen C. JEFFERIES. An Analysis of the Organizational Structure of the Soviet Youth Sports System.

G. Bernard WRIGHT. The Evolution and Role of the Sports Councils in Britain.

G. A. OLAFSON & C. Lloyd BROWN-JOHN. Canadian International Sport Policy: A Public Policy Analysis.

Eric F. BROOM. The Role of Canadian Provincial Governments in Sport.

Pamela G. GILVRRSON. Political Diplomacy in a Canadian Sport.

Part II: SOME EUROPEAN AND IMPERIAL PROBLEMS

Colin R. VEITCH. Play Up! Play Up! And Win the War! The Propaganda of Athleticism in Britain, 1914-1918.

Ian F. JOBLING. The Lion, the Eagle and the Kangaroo: Politics and Proposals for a British Empire Team at the 1916 Berlin Olympics.

Horst UEBERHORST. Sport, Physical Culture and Political Action in Germany During the Weimer Republic, 1925-1933.

Katharine E. MOORE. Strange Bedfellows and Cooperative Partners: The Influence of the Olympic Games on the Establishment of the British Empire Games.

Brian STODDART. Sport, Culture, and Postcolonial Relations: A Preliminary Analysis of the Commonwealth Games.

Part III: POLITICS AND THE OLYMPIC GAMES

Section A: POLITICAL ASPECTS OF INDIVIDUAL OLYMPIC GAMES: 1932, 1976, 1980 and 1984.

Hajo BERNETT. The Olympic Games of Los Angeles 1932 as seen by the Nationalist and Racial Ideology.

John D. DEWAR. The Montreal Games: A Social and Political Comment.

Sandra L. KERELIUK. The Canadian Boycott of the 1980 Moscow Olympic Games.

Dale P. TOOHEY. The Politics of the 1984 Los Angeles Olympics.

Section B: ANALYSIS OF OLYMPIC POLITICS: FOUR EXAMPLES

Hideaki KINOSHITA. Historical Relations Between Modern Olympic Games and Japanese Political Situations.

Debbie J. DENBECK. A Comparison of the United States Olympic Athletes Concerning Political Involvement in the Olympic Games.

David A. ROSE. Theoretical and Practical Confusion About the Olympic Games.

Arnd KRÜGER. De Coubertin and the Olympic Games as Symbols of Peace.

Part IV: SPORT AND POLITICS: A POSITIVE VIEW OF THE FUTURE

Donald W. J. ANTHONY. In a Nuclear Age, Sport is Man's Best Hope

FIT TO PLAY CONFERENCE - the First Australian National Conference on Women, Sport and Physical Recreation, Sydney, January 20-22. 1980.

Selected papers from this conference have been published in the book Fit to Play: Women, Sport and Recreation. Sydney: Blake and Hargreaves Pty. Ltd., 1985.

Libby DARLISON. Introduction

The Honourable Neville Wran, QCMP, Premier of New South Wales. Opening Address.

I. SOCIAL AND CULTURAL ISSUES

Dr. M. Ann HALL. Women, sport and feminism: Some Canadian and Australian comparisons.

Libby DARLISON. Women, sport and ideology in Australia.

Rhonda BUSHBY AND IAN JOBLING. Decades of sport and the shape of Australian womanhood.

Wendy McCARTHY. Physical activity and sexuality.

Averil FINK. Physical recreation for older women.

II. PHYSIOLOGICAL ISSUES

Dr. Barbara DRINKWATER. Myths and realities of women's performance in sport.

Dr. Noela C. WILSON. Pregnancy and exercise

Barbara JAMES. Not just a pretty face: A women's keep-fit programme.

III ADMINISTRATION AND ORGANIZATION

Madame Nadia LEKARSKA. Women in the administration and organization of sport.

Wendy M. EY. The future of women's sporting organizations.

Dr. Allan J. COLES. Sponsorship and funding: The role of government.

Jan CRANEY. Local government and sporting provision for women and girls.

IV RESOLUTIONS

Resolutions passed by the final session.

Resolutions arising from conference sessions and workshops.