

CONFERENCE PRESENTATIONSXI HISPA CONGRESS, GLASGOW, July 1-5, 1985

The following papers were presented. It is expected that the Proceedings will be published.

- A.H.M.KIRK-GREENE (Oxford University, England): Imperial Sidelight or Spotlight? Sport and His Excellency in the British Empire.
- Sotiris GIATSIS (University of Thessaloniki, Greece): Olympia of Antioch: The Last Athletic Games of Antiquity.
- Arnd KREUGER (University of Göttingen, F.R.Germany): Rise and Fall of the International Workers Movement.
- H. AIGNER (Karl Franzens University, Graz, Austria): Sport im der römischen Armee.
- Ralph B. BALLOU (Mid Tennessee State University, U.S.A.): Sport: An Issue for Cross and Crown in 17th Century England.
- Thomas S. HENDRICKS (Elon College, U.S.A.): Sport and Social Hierarchy in Pre-industrial England: a Sociological Perspective.
- Heiner GILLMEISTER (Bonn University, F.R.Germany): Early English Games in the Poetry of Francis Quarles.
- John A. DALY (South Australian College of Advanced Education, Australia): Sport, Class and Community in Colonial South Australia.
- Grant JARVIE (Leeds Polytechnic, England): Class, social development and the Highland Games.
- George EISEN (Polytechnic University, Pomona, U.S.A.): Social Class and Ethnicity in Sport.
- Graeme Kinross SMITH (Deakin University, Australia): The Sweet Sport: 100 years of Life and Tennis in Geelong.
- Nanda FISCHER (Technical University, Munich, F.R.Germany): Tennis in Literature: a Social History of a Sport.
- Vicki PARASCHAK (University of Windsor, Canada): Racial Accommodation in Sport: a case-study of native Canadians.
- Dietrich RAMBA (University of Lower Saxony, F.R.Germany): Civil Rifle Clubs in Lower Saxony: Tradition and Sport.
- Horst UEBERHORST (University of Bochum, F.R.Germany): Aspects of Labour Culture and Labour Sports in the Ruhr District during the Wilhelmenian Empire and the Weimar Republic.
- Roberta J. PARK (University of California, Berkeley, U.S.A.): Biological Thought, Athletics and the Formation of the 'Man of Character': U.S.A. 1850-1915.
- Donald J. MROZEK (Kansas State University, U.S.A.): The Vogue of 'Personality' and the Changing Image of the Athletic Hero in Inter-war America.

- Benjamin G. RADEK (University of Nebraska, Lincoln, U.S.A.): The Great Slump in American Spectator Sports.
- Joachim RUHL (Duetsche Sporthochschule Köln, F.R.Germany): William Penny Brookes and the Much Wenlock Games.
- Stewart A. DAVIDSON (University of Ottawa, Canada): Robert Tait McKenzie: The Scottish Connection of a Committed Imperialist.
- Kazuyoshi KUWAHARA (Ohayama University, Japan): Giacchino Otta and Modern Physical Education and Sports in Finland.
- Susan J. BANDY (San Diego State University, U.S.A.): A Brief History of the Academic Development of American Physical Education.
- Eija-Leena WUOLIO (University of Jyväskylä, Finland): The Development of the Gymnastic Ideology in Finland.
- Patricia VERTINSKY (University of British Columbia, Canada): Female Shape, Body Consciousness Educational Prescriptions and Emancipation in Nineteenth Century North America.
- R. J. DAVIS (North Staffs. Polytechnic, England): Patterns of Physical Recreation in different types of Urban Community in the second half of the Nineteenth Century with particular reference to the West Midlands of England.
- E. John B. ALLEN (Plymouth State College, U.S.A.): Skiing in North America: the British Connection.
- Arthur HANAK (Maccabi Museum and Archives, Israel): The "Jewish Lads Brigade" - an instrument in the regeneration movement towards Jewish Physical Education and Sports.
- Wolfgang BUSS (Göttingen University, F.R.Germany): 'Indirect Rule' - Britische Besatzungspolitik dargestellt am Beispiel des Sport-Kontroll-offiziers John Gretton Dixon.
- Jeremy CRUMP (University of Leicester, England): Professional Cycling in the 1880s.
- R. J. HOLT (University of Stirling, Scotland): The Touring Club de France: Nature and Middle Class Culture in the Belle Epoque.
- James RIORDAN (University of Bradford, England): The Language of Sport: Sport and the Working Class.
- J. Thomas JABLE (William Paterson College, U.S.A.): Cricket Among Philadelphia's Civil War Generation: the Formative Years, 1854-1870.
- Katharine MOORE (Queen's University, Belfast): The Pan-Brittanica Festival: A Tangible Expression of Imperial Unity.
- Richard CASHMAN (University of New South Wales, Australia): Cricket and Colonialism: some general reflections.
- Louis W. BURGNER (Berne, Switzerland): L'Armée et l'Education Physique en Suisse 1848-1894.

- Jean Claude BUSSARD (University of Lausanne, Switzerland): Guillaume Sterroz (1855-1924): le Père de l'Education Physique Scolaire Fribourgeoise.
- Gilbert ANDRIEU (University of Paris, Nanterre, France): De l'Art de Surnager au XIXéme Siécle dans la Seine.
- Joachim RUHL (Deutsche Sporthochschule Köln, F.R.Germany): An investigation into the method of scoring in medieval tournaments.
- John Marshal CARTER (East Carolina University, U.S.A.): Avenues to Medieval Peasant Sports and Recreations.
- Thorsteinn EINARSSON (Reykjavik, Iceland): Iceland: Sport and the Middle Ages.
- John LUCAS (Pennsylvania State University, U.S.A.): The Correspondence between Theodore Roosevelt and Pierre de Coubertin 1901-1919: an Analysis and Synthesis.
- Elmer L. JOHNSON (California State University, U.S.A.): The Inter-Allied Games, June 22 - July 6, 1919.
- David C. YOUNG (University of California (Santa Barbara) U.S.A.): Coubertin and the Imperial Logo.
- Stefal ILIC (University of Belgrade, Yugoslavia): The Introduction of Physical Education Teaching into Elementary Schools of the Serbian Principality in 1868 and 'Physical Exercise Instructions'.
- Robert Knight BARNEY (University of Western Ontario, Canada): A Noble Crusade: the Denial of Military Drill as the Physical Education Ethic in American Public Schools.
- Roland NAUL (University of Essen, F.R.Germany): Turnen nach Jahn oder Spiess? Die Organisationsformen des Turnunterrichts an den Hoheren Schulen im duetschen Kaiserreich.
- M.D.W.TOZER (Uppingham School, England): Sport and the mid-Victorian Ideal of Manliness.
- T.H.L.CHANDLER (Syracuse University, U.S.A.): The Emergence of Athleticism: Social Control or Mutual Adaptation.
- Ruskin TEETOR (North Texas State University, U.S.A.): Nineteenth Century Science and Sport in the Emergence of the Modern Adolescence.
- J. R. HAY (Deakin University, Australia): Violence in Sport: does the Game matter?
- Tony MASON & Jeremy CRUMP (Warwick University, England): Hostile and Improper Demonstrations: Football Violence 1880-1980.
- Joseph A. MAGUIRE (University of Leicester, England): Crowd Disorder in the Late Victorian and Edwardian Periods - the wider Context.
- Hugh M. LEE (University of Maryland, U.S.A.): Pelops, Pisa and the Olympic Chariot Race.

- Manfred LAMMER (Deutsche Sporthochschule, Köln, F.R.Germany): Zum Verhalten von Zuschauern bei Wettkämpfen in der friechischen Antike.
- Floris VAN DER MERWE (University of Stellenbosch, South Africa): Track and Field at Stellenbosch in the 19th Century.
- Finn OLSTAD & Stein TONNESSON (Norwegian Confederation of Sports, Norway): The 'Utilitarian' and the 'Olympic' Ideal in the History of Norwegian Sports 1861-1985.
- Richard D. MANDELL (University of South Carolina, U.S.A.): Nixon's sport rhetoric.
- Jean HARVEY (University of Ottawa, Canada): State Involvement in sport as a result of the development of Welfare State Policies: the Case of the Canadian Federal State,
- Hart CANTELON & Donald MacINTOSH (Queen's University, Canada): The Relationship between Sport and National Unity in the Canadian Context.
- C. Beaton PARRATT & A. METCALFE (University of Windsor, Canada): Sport and hegemony: insights from Canada.
- Theme I Local History and Sport in Lower Saxony: a Major West German Project. Speakers: Arnd KRUEGER and Gundolf KRUEGER
- Teresa GONZALEZ AJA (Ciudad University, Spain): Le thème sportif dans la Peinture Espagnole du Siécle d'Or.
- Andrea PETERSON (Deutsche Sporthochschule Köln, F.R.Germany): The Olympic Arts Competitions from 1912 to 1948 - Explanatory Remarks on a Research Project.
- Scott B. WATSON (Ithaca College, U.S.A.): The history of ideas: sport, space and time.
- Trevor WILLIAMS (Sunderland Polytechnic, England): On the Clarification of Historical Transformation: Toennies Theory of Change Applied to Okinawau Karate.
- Toru NONOMIYA (Aichi University of Education, Japan): Lingianism and the Natural Method - a one-sided Reception of Swedish Gymnastics in Japan.
- Hirkok SEIWA (Yokohama University, Japan): Women's Volleyball in Japan in Relation to Industrial and Economic Development: an Historical Perspective.
- Beryl FURLONG (University of Liverpool, England): The History of University Sports: the unanswered questions.
- Roland A. SMITH (Pennsylvania State University, U.S.A.): American College Sport, the Extracurriculum, and the Idea of Freedom in the Post- Revolutionary Period.
- Kathleen E. MCCRONE (University of Windsor, Canada): The Lady 'Blue':

Sport at the Oxbridge Women's Colleges from their Foundation to 1914.

Nancy L. STRUNA (University of Maryland, U.S.A.): 'Right actions' and the Ordering of Sport and Society: the case of the eighteenth century Chesapeake Gentry.

Peter WILHELM (ötige University, F.R.Germany). Sport an der Georg August Universität im 19. Jahrhundert.

Gertrud PFISTER (Free University, Berlin, F.R.Germany): Zwischen Freizeit, Pontik und Show - Sport im Berlin der Weimarer Republik.

N. I. ORMER (Exeter University, England): Hunting and Education in England 1100-1600.

Peter F. RADFORD (University of Glasgow, Scotland): The Art and Science of Training and Coaching Athletes in late-18th and early 19th century Britain.

Dennis BRAILSFORD (North Worcestershire College and University of Birmingham, England): Nationality, Race and Prejudice in Early Pugilism.

H. F. MOORHOUSE (University of Glasgow, Scotland): The 'Work' Ethic and 'Leisure' Activity: Hot Rod Sub-Culture of the 1940s and 1950s.

M. SPEAKE (University of Lancaster, England): The Social Anatomy of Participation in Sport in Lancaster, England in Early Victorian England (1840-1870).

J. MAGUIRE (University of Leicester, England): Conceptual and Methodological Confusion in Analyses of Nineteenth Century Working Class Leisure: the Case for Historical Sociology.

John LOWERSON (Sussex University, England): Sport History: A Past with no Future?

Hannes STROHMEYER (Vienna University, Austria): Die 'Sex Res Non' - Kontinuität und Wandel einer Idee.

Hajo BERNETT (University of Bonn, F.R.Germany): Die Anfänge der Leichtathletik in Duetschland.

Matti GOKSOYI (Norwegian College for Physical Education and Sport, Oslo, Norway): The Growth of Modern Sport in Bergen, Norway 1850-1919.

Nancy C. BOUCHIER (University of Western Ontario, Canada): Social class and Organized Sport in 19th Century Ontario: a case study of sport in a small town: Ingersoll, Ontario 1860-1894.

David J. WHITSON (Dunfermline College of Physical Education, Scotland): Sport, Ideology and Cultural Reproduction.

J. A. MANGAN (Jordanhill College of Education, Scotland): Catalyst of Change: John Guthrie Kerr and the Transformation of an Indigenous Educational Tradition.

David W. BROWN (Edmonton, Canada): Social Darwinism, Sport and Canadian Private Schooling.

- Ronald RENSON (Katholieke Universiteit Leuven, Belgium): The Reception of the 1936 Olympic Games in Berlin in the Belgian Daily Press.
- Werner HIBBELEER (Göttingen University, F.R.Germany): Sports activity of the British Occupation Forces in Post-War Germany.
- Takako KUNIEDA (Ibaraki University, Japan): An Ideology for Female Physical Education in the Taishoh Era (1912-1925) in Japan.
- Gerd VON DER LIPPE (Telemark, Norway): The Dissolution of the Central Committee for Women in 1953, Norway.
- David A. ROSE (Los Angeles, California): A Re-examination of the AIAW/NCAA conflict over women's College and Sport, U.S.A.
- Michael K. HEINE (Bochum University, F.R.Germany): Economics, Social Structure and Game Participation in a Pre-literate Society: the Thingat Indians of Southeast Alaska.
- John M. OSBORNE (Dickinson College, U.S.A.): The British Sports Industry and the Opening of the First World War,
- Wray VAMPLEW (Flinders University of South Australia, Australia): Sport and the Industrial Revolution: an Economic Interpretation of the Development of Popular Sport in Nineteenth Century Britain.
- James WALVIN (University of York, England): The Social History of Sport: the future - prospects, possibilities and priorities.