

Sport in the Global Village: Comparative Perspectives

June 12-18, 1992
University of Houston
Houston, Texas, U.S.A.

Keynote speakers include:

Asa Briggs, Provost of Worcester College, Oxford University, U.K.
Anita L. DeFrantz, Member of the International Olympic Committee, U.S.A.
Leonid Drachevsky, Formerly, First Deputy Chairman of GosSport, U.S.S.R.
Jack Kelly, President of the Goodwill Games, U.S.A.
Charles C. Ragin, Professor of Sociology at Northwestern University, and author of The Comparative Method: Moving Beyond Qualitative and Quantitative Strategies, U.S.A.
Brian Stoddart, Dean of Communication, University of Canberra, Australia.

Plus more than 150 international research presentations on such topics as:

- Sport in the Global Marketplace
- Sport and Soviet Perestroika
- Sport and the South African Question
- Sport and the New European Community
- Sport and German Unification
- Sport and the Middle East Crisis
- Role of Developing Nations in International Sport
- Biomedical Aspects of International Sport
- International Sport and the Mass Media
- The Politics of Global Sport
- Deviant Behavior in International Sport
(Cheating, Gambling, Substance Abuse, and Violence)
- International Sport Law
- The Future of International Sport

In addition to the academic program, an exciting cultural program is planned for both delegates and their guests

For more information and registration materials call: (713) 749-4386 Fax: (713) 749-1119

or write: I.S.C.P.E.S. '92
University of Houston
Houston, Texas 77204-5331
U.S.A.

Deadline for pre-registration is March 15, 1992

RCW/s3