

EASTERN PENNSYLVANIA NOTES

By "HAZARD"

The past month has witnessed great activity in Philadelphia golf circles, but the play of the Open Championship, September 16 and 17, undoubtedly was the most important of the many events. The Whitemarsh Valley Country Club was awarded the meeting and probably the course never has been in better condition. Tom McNamara, of Boston, won rather easily with a total of 302 for the seventy-two holes, and by the way, this is the first time that the championship has been decided over so long a route.

The Association this year increased the prize moneys, and as a consequence a very fine field competed. Isaac Mackie, the Eastern Open Champion, was second, closely followed by Walter Hagen, who recently won the National Open title. The scores follow:

On the 17th, 18th and 19th of September the Annual Tournament for the St. Martin's Cup was given by the Philadelphia Cricket Club, and one of the largest fields in the history of the game in the city turned out. There were two hundred and fifty entries and a comparatively small number of withdrawals, and although a very early start was made in the morning, yet it was necessary for some of the late starters to finish after night-fall; indeed there were some who found it impossible to finish at all. Four sixteens were qualified and in the first flight no less than six Aronimink players were included, and one of them, Mr. Walter Reynolds, easily captured the medal with a fine 75.

The first matches were notable for the consistent play of Mr. Spencer D. Wright, Jr., who was in good form, winning both encounters on the 19th hole, one of his victims being Mr. H. H. Francine, who won the Philadelphia Championship this year. A great surprise was furnished when Mr. Reynolds, the medalist, was eliminated by Mr. F. P. Hill, of Stenton. Mr. Hill is one of the veteran players of the city and although his game is remarkably steady, few anticipated that he would be strong enough to defeat the Aronimink player.

However, it remained for one of the visitors to win the chief trophy, and Mr. J. N. Stearns, 3d, of the Nassau Country Club, succeeded in doing this after a very close match with Mr. S. I. Jones, of Plymouth. Mr. Jones has been displaying excellent form throughout the year and his consistency has earned him a place on the Pennsylvania team for the Lesley matches. The summary of the play follows:

In the first round Mr. Perrin eliminated Mr. H. H. Francine, the local champion, and he continued on his winning career to the end. However, it remained for Mr. J. M. Thompson, of Springhaven to give the better known player a terrific fight in the final, which was carried to an extra hole. It cannot be said that the golf in the final was of the highest order, but the closeness of the play makes it memorable. The scores and summary follow:

The play for the Clarence H. Geist Cup, in the Annual Tournament at Whitemarsh Valley, produced a sensational winner in the person of Mr. Norman Maxwell, a seventeen-year-old player from the Lansdowne Country Club. In the final he defeated Mr. Maurice Risley, of Atlantic City, and as already he had eliminated Mr. Walter Reynolds, of Aronimink, he created something of a sensation. The qualification medal was won by Mr. S. E. Sharwood, of Merion, who finished in the twilight with a capital 79. Eighty-eight was the last score to get a place in the first flight, and two players, Mr. R. M. Wister and Mr. J. R. Bucannon, who had this score, were forced into the second division. The qualification scores:

Youthful Mr. Maxwell barely managed to win his first match with Mr. S. V. Anderson, of Bon Air, but when he came through the second round, by defeating Mr. L. F. Deming, the contestants were astonished, for Mr. Deming is one of the strongest players at Whitemarsh. But the wide margin of 7 up and 5 to play left little room for argument.

In the semi-final Mr. Maxwell won from the fine Aronimink player, Mr. Walter Reynolds, and although his play fell off somewhat in the final with Mr. Risley, yet it was a good match. Mr. Maxwell started badly and possibly an early lead caused the Atlantic City player to become a trifle overconfident, but Mr. Maxwell stuck gamely to his task and squared matters by winning the tenth and eleventh holes in par figures. Mr. Risley played into the water hazard on the fourteenth, and for the first time his opponent was up since the beginning of the match. After driving into the ditch, going to the fifteenth, Mr. Risley made a wonderful recovery when he placed his second shot within fifteen feet of the cup, which enabled him to halve the hole. The match was carried to the home green, where Mr. Maxwell won by making no mistakes and getting down in par figures. The summary follows:
