

□ □ □

COLONEL FOOZLE

Colonel Foozle, you're a knowall,
 And you bluster 'round the course,
 Always butting in to show all
 How to play—and make them worse.

You're a meddlesome old duffer,
 Overflowing with conceit;
 As a breezy, loud old bluffer
 You are simply hard to beat.

Colonel Foozle, just be humble
 For at least a little while,
 And cease, old man, to kick and grumble;
 Learn the value of a smile.

—The Duffer.