

A Four-Fold Official

James H. O'Rourke of Bridgeport, Conn., is now president, vice president, secretary and treasurer of the Connecticut League of Base Ball Clubs. His unanimous election to all these offices is announced by the directors. O'Rourke has been secretary of the league since it was organized. As president he succeeds William J. Tracey of Bristol, Conn., and as vice president he succeeds A. E. Taylor of Chicopee.