

Occasional Papers in Football Studies

Notes for Contributors

Three copies of each paper should be sent to the editor. Manuscripts should be a maximum of 6500 words in length including referencing, focusing on social scientific aspects of any code of football or combination of codes with particular reference to the social, cultural, political or economic impact of football on society or societies. Shorter research essays of 3000-5000 words will also be considered for publication. In addition, Viewpoint articles that address theoretical or methodological issues and questions of 4000-6000 words will also be considered. All of these submissions will be fully refereed. Papers should be original work and not be submitted to any other journal whilst under review with OPFS. All papers should be in English and use British spelling (-ise not -ize and colour not color). Also, please do not double space after full stops (periods). Single quotation marks should surround quotes within the text and double within single. We recognise that different disciplines adhere to different referencing styles. To accommodate diversity, we ask authors to use either APA referencing style OR endnote style (for historical papers) as in the following examples:

1. Bruce Kidd, The Struggle for Canadian Sport (Toronto: University of Toronto Press, 1996), p. 37.
2. Patricia Vertinsky, 'The Social Construction of the Gendered Body: Exercise and the Exercise of Power', International Journal of the History of Sport, 11:2 (1994), 147-71.
3. John Hughson, 'The Bad Blue Boys and the "Magical Recovery" of John Clarke', in Gary Armstrong and Richard Giulianotti, eds., Entering the Field: New Perspectives in World Football (Oxford: Berg, 1997), 239-60.

Subsequent references use author's last name and short title:

4. Hughson, 'Bad Blue Boys', 244. (Do not use ibid or op cit).

Once papers are accepted for publication, authors will be asked to supply a disk copy of the paper in PC format in Word 6 or above.

Send editorial correspondence to:

Dr John Nauright
Department of Human Movement Studies
The University of Queensland
Brisbane QLD 4072
Australia
fax +61 7 3365 6877
email: johnn@hms.uq.edu.au