Occasional Papers in Football Studies (to be continued as Football Studies in 1999) is a fully refereed bi-annual journal that publishes work from the historical, sociological, geographical, political and cultural studies areas of any code of football played in the world. Each issue contains fully refereed articles, viewpoint articles and research essays that focus primarily on innovative and theoretical approaches to the study of the role of football codes in societies. In addition, commentaries and reviews are published. Anyone wishing to review books or suggest books to be reviewed should contact Dr. Murray Phillips directly. Those wishing to join the Football Studies Group should contact Dr Tara Magdalinski, Sunshine Coast University, Locked Bag 4, Maroochydore South, QLD 4558, Australia, email:magdalinski@scuc.edu.au. Membership of the FSG is $39/$75 per year (individual/institutional. The material published in OPFS is copyright of the Football Studies Group. Opinions expressed are those of individual authors and not necessarily those of the editors or the Football Studies Group. Reproduction without consent of the editor and the individual author is not permitted. Submission guidelines are at the end of the journal. The Football Studies Group was founded in 1997 by scholars based in Australia wishing to bring together researchers working on the world's major football codes and has expanded to include international membership from many countries.
