

Submission Guidelines

Three copies of the manuscript should be sent to the editor. Manuscripts should be a maximum of 6500 words in length including referencing, focusing on social scientific aspects of any code of football or combination of codes with particular reference to the social, cultural, political or economic impact of football on society or societies. Viewpoint articles that address theoretical or methodological issues/questions of 4000-6000 words are also considered. All submissions are fully refereed. Papers should be original work and not be submitted to any other journal while under review with FS. All papers should be in English and use British spelling (-ise not -ize/ colour not color). Do not double space after full stops (periods). Single quotation marks should surround quotes within the text (double within single). We recognise that different disciplines adhere to different referencing styles. To accommodate diversity, authors should use either APA referencing style for parenthetical references or Chicago Manual of Style for endnotes. For electronic sources, please consult the APA's electronic reference formats as found on <http://www.apa.org/journals/webref.html>. Papers not conforming to either of these styles will be returned to authors for revision. Once papers are accepted for publication, authors will be asked to supply a disk copy of the paper in PC format in Word 6 or above.
