

MORE AND MORLEY TEES

Even though an enthusiastic golfer who thought he had a bright idea in the matter of a new tee was informed by the Patent Office that "175 applications had previously been received for the idea submitted, new tees are constantly appearing.

The latest is the Morley Tee. This tee looks like several others, but it has a claim for distinction in that it is made of papier-maché, and as soon as it becomes wet it disintegrates.
