

FOOTBALL STUDIES GROUP

The Football Studies Group was founded in 1997 to bring together scholars researching in the area of football studies. The Group was launched at the inaugural Football Studies Conference, Football and Identities, held at The University of Queensland, Brisbane, Australia. Since then, the Football and Culture conference was held at the Victoria University of Technology, Melbourne, Australia and the third conference of the Football Studies Group was held in 1999 on the Sunshine Coast, Australia. The FSG was pleased to be involved with the ISCPES 2000 Conference.

The Group has an international membership with delegates researching diverse aspects of football. The aim of the Football Studies Group is to take an active role in the scholarship of football and will be a conduit for research and the dissemination of that research, through conferences, newsletters and the journal. In addition, the Group will foster greater cross-code and cross-cultural research and discussion of football's role in society.

Football Studies, the Journal of the Football Studies Group was the first journal devoted solely to the cultural, social, political and economic study of football codes. A limited number of back issues of the first volume remain.

INTERNATIONAL SOCIETY FOR COMPARATIVE PHYSICAL EDUCATION AND SPORT

History:

The International Society for Comparative Physical Education and Sport (ISCPES) had its origins as the International Committee on Comparative Physical Education founded 29 December 1978 at the First International Seminar on Comparative Physical Education and Sport held at the Wingate Institute of Physical Education in Israel. A steering committee was elected to guide the development of a new professional society. A second seminar was held in September 1980 at Dalhousie University in Halifax, Nova Scotia, Canada. Subsequent conferences have been held at Minneapolis, Minnesota, (1982); Vancouver, Canada (1986); Hong Kong (1988); London, England (1990); Houston, Texas, (1992); Prague, Czech Republic (1994); Haji-Ochji, Japan (1996); and Leuven, Belgium (1998). The next conference is on the Sunshine Coast, Queensland, Australia, 29 Aug-3 Sept 2000 just prior to the Pre-Olympic Scientific Congress and the 2000 Olympic Games.

Purpose:

ISCPES is a research and educational organisation structured for the purposes of (a) promoting, stimulating and encouraging study, research and scholarly activity on comparative and international physical education and sport, and (b) supporting, encouraging and providing assistance to those seeking to initiate, develop and conduct programs in comparative physical education and sport. The society's main historical interest has been the comparative study of sport and physical education whether comparisons are made from continent to continent, culture to culture, country to country, region to region within a country or culture, specifically in the social sciences, humanities and pedagogy. International Sports Studies provides the main conduit for research undertaken in these areas on both comparative aspects of sports and physical education and their international and global contexts,

ISCPES Executive Board Members 1999-2000:

President: Darwin Semotiuk, University of Western Ontario
Vice-President: Roland Naul, University of Essen Catholic University of Leuven
Secretary: Tara Magdalinski, University of the Sunshine Coast
Treasurer: Roy Clumpener, Western Washington University
Research Coordinator: Jan Tolleneer, Catholic University of Leuven
Member-At-Large: Hai Ren, Beijing University of Physical Education
Past President (ex-officio): Ken Hardman, University of Manchester
2001 Conference Director (ex-officio): Scott Martyn, University of Windsor

Guidelines or contributors

International Sports Studies is concerned with research and scholarship in the social sciences that focuses upon comparative and international study in physical education and sport. 'Comparative' may refer to research and scholarship in which some comparison is made across different continents, countries, regions, or cultures, 'International' refers to research that places work in an cross-national or global context. Submissions are invited from social science and humanities disciplines including sports history, geography, pedagogy, philosophy, marketing and management and sociology of sport. Prospective contributors are encouraged to contact the editors to discuss their ideas. Manuscript submissions to International Sports Studies should be sent to:

All work submitted should be original, unpublished work, not under consideration elsewhere. All submissions undergo a thorough blind peer-review process. Accepted papers become copyright of the journal. Authors should submit four copies of their paper and keep a copy for their records. Text should be double-spaced, typed on one side of A4 paper with numbered pages. Papers should be in English, 4000-6000 words and include an abstract (on a separate sheet) of 150-250 words, Tables and/or figures should be kept to an absolute minimum, but where necessary should appear on separate pages, and a note included in the text to indicate the appropriate position of the table/figure in the text. Papers with several tables may have them placed at the end of the published paper. Figures and tables must be in finished form (saved as a .gif or .tif file), suitable for reproduction. Endnotes should be limited and grouped together on a separate sheet. Authors who have papers accepted will be asked to submit a final copy on disk or via file attachment. American or British English is acceptable, but consistency should be maintained throughout.

To assist in the blind review process, contributors should submit a cover sheet detailing the title of the paper; authors' names and institutional affiliations; full address for correspondence, including telephone, fax and e-mail; date of submission. The title of the paper should appear on the first page of the manuscript.

References should conform to the American Psychological Association format (see APA Publication Manual, 1994). Titles of journals should not be abbreviated. Papers not conforming to APA style or not conforming to the above specifications will be returned to authors for correction prior to review. Internet sites must be cited according to the APA Style for Citing Electronic Sources. Historical papers may use endnotes but these must conform to the Chicago Manual of Style format and include the names of publishers for books.
