Olympic Forum

DRUGS

The Olympic Forum website needs and requests your point of view,

(olympicforum.info)

There were 24 positive drug tests at the Olympic Summer Games in Athens. Three involved gold medals.

"Olympic Forum" wants to publish on this website your liberal, moderate or conservative point of view relative to suggested penalties for banned, performance-enhancing drugs in sport. Manuscripts may be long or short.

What do you believe penalties should be for banned drug offenses in Olympic and other sports? Do you believe current penalties are too lenient or too harsh or are they appropriate as they now stand? Should the IOC create an umbrella rule that covers penalties for all drug offenders in all Olympic sports, or would you leave such penalties to individual national or international sports federations? What other point of view would you like to express about this issue?

We will appreciate even brief remarks to establish polling data.

We also invite manuscripts dealing with other Olympic subjects and issues. During the year we will regularly be soliciting opinions and points of view relative to various Olympic subjects; our purpose being to provide an independent means of publication for those who wish to write about contemporary national and international Olympic affairs.

To submit articles or remarks:

Use the "Submit Articles" link at the head of the website (olympicforum.info). Paste your article as plain text within the appropriate text area and click the "submit" button.
