

MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY-GENERAL

With this issue, we come to the end of the second year of Citius, Altius, Fortius: The ISOH Journal. We are also very close to having been in an organization for three years now, the 3rd anniversary being 5 December 1994. As I write this, we now have 132 members worldwide, and we have been gaining new members steadily throughout our existence.

During the past year, the Executive Committee has voted on several proposals via mail ballot which will be brought up in the next issue. These include a possible ISOH Scholarship, as well as the finalization of the ISOH Constitution. While the constitution is nearly completed, it requires a few more small revisions, and we hope to present it in its final version in the coming year.

I have been fortunate over the past year to have received several fine articles for use in the journal, and I think the quality of the journal has improved with each issue. I hope it has. I urge all of you to continue sending me articles. We can never have too many, the result of a plethora of articles being that we can continue being more selective in publishing them, and thereby again improving the quality of the journal.

We know that many of the members were in Paris this August for the Olympic Congress celebrating the 100th Centennial of the founding of the International Olympic Committee. In coming issues, we will be discussing the events of that Olympic Congress.

Bill Mallon, M.D.
Secretary-General, ISOH
