- VII-1 Lenskyj, Helen. "Putting the Physical into Education: The Politics of Teaching Women's Sport History in the High School," History and Social Science Teacher, 25 (Spring 1990), 138-143.

Helen Lenskyj discusses the need to pay greater attention to the development of women's sports in Canada. Teaching sports history in the high school will introduce young women to the benefits of athletics, both physical and social. It will help break down stereotypes and encourage participation in team and individual sports. Lenskyj examines areas for further research and mentions the different sources that are available from diaries to archives. The author also looks at some of the existing publications on this subject, both articles and books. No notes; illustrations.
