

NATIONAL OLYMPIC ACADEMY

The National Olympic Academy will hold its third session at Brigham Young University, June 19-23, 1979. Like the two previous Academies held in Illinois, the Utah meeting will continue to develop and promulgate the humanistic aspect of sport - what it calls the "Spirit of Olympism." Leona Holbrook, Director of the Academy for Session III and NASSH member, indicates that there will be sessions on history, philosophy, sports medicine, sport art, curriculum materials at grade group levels, photo journalism and reporting, and collecting printed and non-printed materials for school and public libraries. For additional information write to Prof. Holbrook, Richards Building, Brigham Young University, Provo, UT 84602,