

CONTENTS

1991 ADDENDUM

1991 CONFERENCE ABSTRACTS	Page
Brief Euphoria: Chicago and the 1904 Olympic Games Award Robert Knight Barney	125
The Sisyphus Complex or Cowboy Canoyer Rides Again (A Reminiscence of Peace in a World at War). David Barney	126
The Forgotten Careers of Three Women Professional Baseball Players of the Early 1900s: A Socio-Cultural History Gai Ingham Berlage	127
'The Twenty-Fourth of May is the Queen's Birthday.' Civic Holidays and Sport in Two Nineteenth-Century Ontario Towns. Nancy B. Bouchier	128
Avery Brundage: Chicago Businessman Maynard Brichford	129
Cinderellas of Sport: Black Women and the Politics of Race and Gender in Track and Field Susan Cahn	130
Methodological and Intellectual Issues in Lesser-Researched Sport and Exercise History Topics Gwendolyn Captain, Alison Wrynn, and Roberta J. Park	131
Dr. James Naismith: How He Saw His Game Develop in Canada and the United States John Dewar	131
Between the Virgin and the Dynamo: Athletics, Energy and Social Discourse in Modernizing America Mark Dyreson	132
The Effects of Structural and Secular Changes on Baseball William L. Eubank and Eric B. Herzik	133
The Influence of the Bicycle Craze on the Sporting Goods Industry 1893-1898: 1900-1910 Lawrence W. Fielding, Brenda G. Pitts and Lori K. Miller	134
Writing Intensive Sport History J. Thomas Jable	135
Karate is a Thing of the Spirit and the Body Don Johnson	135
Basketball and Community: Assimilation and the American Jewish Experience Peter Levine	136
Oral History Project: Ontario Olympians Glynn Leyshon	137
Sport History Instruction: Slice of the Pie in Courses Dealing with Preparation of Sport and Physical Education Practitioners Alar Lipping	138
The Meaning of Aerobic Dance: Selected Historical and Cultural Themes Pirkko Markula	139
Fanning the Flames: Avery Brundage, the USOC, and the 1968 Black Power Revolt Scott A. McQuilkin	140
Association Football, Communities and Change in Scotland H. F. Moorhouse	141
Sport and Male Archetypes Don Morrow	142
Recreation, Urban Reform, and Working-Class Realities: Chicago's Neighborhood Parks, 1900-1940 Dominic A. Pacyga	143
The Native Sport and Recreation Program: Patterns of Resistance, Patterns of Reproduction, 1972-1981 Vicky Paraschak	143
Sport as Kitsch: A Case Study of the American Gladiators Robert Rinehart	144
Basketball and the Lithuanians A. E. Senn	145
The 1905 Secret Diary of Harvard Coach William Reid: A Symbolic Representation of Rationalized Big-Time College Athletics Ronald A. Smith	146
Kentucky Sportswomen Struggle for Competition in the 1940s Peggy Stanaland	147
The Leisure Preference and the Emergent Labor Order in Stuart England and the Anglo-American Colonies Nancy L. Struna	148
As the Branch is Bent: Branch Rickey as College Coach John D. Stevens	150
Social Behaviour Legislation in Upper Canada—Canada West— Some Considerations for Sport and Leisure K. B. Wamsley	151

Entrepreneurs and Progressives: Baseball in the American West, 1900-1901.	James Warnock	151
Athletics at a Pioneer College in the Texas Panhandle: Goodnight College	Jack Watson	152
Living the Dream. . . A Sociohistorical Analysis of Professional Women Baseball Players 1940-1950	Ravin H. Weiller and Catriona Higgs	153
“The Year of Awakening:” Black Athletes, Racial Unrest, and the Civil Rights Movement of 1968	David K. Wiggins	154
“Not Only Do You Cook Greens, But We Play on Them!”: Chicago’s Afro-American Feminine Golfers from 1930 Through 1937	Linda D. Williams	155
Chivalry’s Influence on Sport and Physical Training in Medieval Europe.	Earle F. Zeigler	156