The seventh annual bonspiel of the Northwestern Curling Association was commenced on January 16th, at St. Paul, Minn., and continued for the rest of the week. Twenty-two rinks were entered, Canada being represented with seven. St. Paul supplied eight rinks. The other cities represented were Chicago, Milwaukee, and Baraboo, Wis.

The principal event of the week was the International trophy, in which the Canadians proved easy winners. The preliminary and first two rounds were played during the bonspiel, but the final, resting between two Canadian rinks, was contested for on the Granite rink, at Winnipeg, the week following, the scores follow:

The St. Paul Curling Club trophy, contested for by American rinks only, was won by S. Hasting's Minneapolis rink, who defeated E. J. Marriott's Baraboo rink, by a score of 11 to 11.

The Championship medal for the "skip" winning the greatest number of games was won by S. G. Harstone, of Granite rink, Winnipeg, with a total of nine games.

For the first time in three years the curlers of New York and New Jersey met in the Interstate championship, and the Hamilton medal. The games were contested on the Hoboken rink, on February 1st.

Under the conditions on which Mr. J. L. Hamilton presented the medal in 1876, the "skip" on the winning side whose team makes the highest score is entitled to the trophy for one year, or until played for again, and this year it goes to T. Archibald, skip of Caledonian (No. 1).

Nine teams from each State were in the contest. It was the first match played indoors. The championship has been contested for eleven times, New York having six victories and New Jersey four, one of the matches won by New York not being counted.

A summary of the games by rinks follows:

New York.	New Jersey.

ICE HOCKEY.

THE Intercollegiate League has furnished some of the best games of the year, and the colleges will probably furnish plenty of championship material in future years, much of it equal to the imported variety. It is unfortunate that Harvard is so far from the rinks used for the intercollegiate games that she could not be represented in the championship series; but her outside games against Yale and Brown will probably furnish opportunity for comparison of her skill with that of the best teams in the organization.
