

DATEBOOK

Agustin Delgado has helped propel Ecuador, the next U.S. opponent, to within striking distance of its first World Cup berth.

MAY 29-JUNE 2

Adidas Cup

With the first FIFA Under-19 Women's Championship coming up next year, the third annual U-18 tournament in Spring, Texas, with the United States, Canada, China, Finland and Japan, takes on added importance.

MAY 30

South Korea vs. France

(Galavision, 5 a.m.)

The opening match of the Confederations Cup, which features eight teams and runs through June 10.

JUNE 2

D. C. United vs. Chicago Fire

(ESPN, 2 p.m.)

Columbus Crew vs. Los Angeles Galaxy

(Telemundo, 4 p.m.)

Tampa Bay Mutiny vs. Kansas City Wizards

(ESPN 2, 7 p.m.)

A soccer couch potato's dream: the most nationally televised MLS games on one day this season.

San Diego Spirit vs. Bay Area

CyberRays

Spirit captain Julie Foudy faces the team coached by her husband, Ian Sawyers.

JUNE 6

Greece vs. England

There will be 40 World Cup qualifiers in Europe during early June. England needs to pick up at least a point in Athens to solidify second place behind Germany in Group 9.

JUNE 7

USA vs. Ecuador

(ESPN, 8 p.m.)

The United States tunes up for two Hexagonal matches later in the month when it hosts red-hot Ecuador in Columbus, Ohio.

All times are Eastern and subject to change. For daily listings of games on television, read SoccerAmericaDaily.