

OCTOBER POLL TV Viewing Habits

The following are the results of SoccerAmerica.com's October Poll, in which fans revealed their TV viewing habits, specifically how much soccer they watched.

MLS (ESPN2)

Regularly 65%
Occasionally 27%
Never 6%
Not available on my system 2%
MLS (pay-per-view)

Regularly 23%
Occasionally 6%
Never 44%
Not available on my system 27%

MLS (local TV)

Regularly 51%
Occasionally 15%
Never 10%
No MLS team in my market 24%

WUSA

Regularly 20%
Occasionally 40%
Never 35%
Not available on my system 6%

A-LEAGUE

Regularly 19%
Occasionally 40%
Never 18%
Not available on my system 24%

ENGLISH LEAGUE

Regularly 51%
Occasionally 22%
Never 7%
Not available on my system 20%

GERMAN LEAGUE

Regularly 29%
Occasionally 31%
Never 17%
Not available on my system 23%
MEXICAN LEAGUE
Regularly 18%
Occasionally 44%
Never 29%
Not available on my system 9%

NOVEMBER POLL

2002 MLS MVP
With many of MLS's American stars on World Cup duty, other players were given a chance to shine in MLS this season. There were plenty of candidates, among them 2002 World Cup heroes Landon Donovan and Cobi Jones, 1994 World Cup star Alexi Lalas, MLS veterans Mark Chung, Chris Henderson and Steve Ralston, rising American stars such as Carlos Bocanegra, Edson Buddle, Nick Rimando and Tim Howard, and MLS's new scoring giants Carlos Ruiz and Taylor Twellman. Who is your choice for 2002 MLS MVP?

Log on to socceramerica.com and make your pick.