High Power Big Game Rifles

When you want to drive a ten-penny nail you don't use a tack hammer. For the same reason, when you set off to hunt grizzly, elk, mountain goat, or other big game generally shot at fairly long range, don't take a medium or low-power rifle just because you happen to have one, but carry a long, strong-shooting rifle—one that hits a smashing, knock-down blow. Such rifles are the Winchester Model 1886 .33 caliber and the Model 1895 .30 Army, .35 and .405 calibers, using high-power smokeless powder cartridges with metal-patched, soft-pointed bullets. The bullets used in these cartridges have a good-sized cross section, which gives them great killing power at the distance most big game is shot. The accuracy of these rifles and cartridges has been thoroughly established, and if you sight right the game is yours. Your gun dealer can show you these models, or we will send you a catalogue describing them upon request. Winchester Cartridges and Winchester Guns are made one for the other.

TRAP IN OHIO.

F. H. King Won the Honors at the Newark Gun Club Shoot.

Newark, O., Oct. 5.—One of the most successful shoots held in the State this season was given by the Newark Gun Club, September 27-28. The weather was ideal and the sport was enjoyed by all in attendance. E. E. Browne had charge of the affair and the events were conducted in a pleasing manner. J. R. Taylor acted as cashier, assisted by R. B. McNeil, and they did their part well.

The programme had 200 shots each day with an entrance of $20, money divided among the amateurs on the percentage plan. $65 was given in average prizes to the four best scores.

On the first day Johnson was high man with 182 out of 200, Trimble second, 181; Hatcher and Alkire third, 179.

On the second day F. H. King, of Newark, surprised them all by making top score, 189 out of 200. Snow was second with 183. This gave King first average for the two days and he carried home the Laffin & Rand silver trophy and first average prize, $30.

Trimble, a paid man, was second for the two days, with 360. Hatcher, of Bristol, Tenn., won second average money, $20, with a total of 359. Johnson took third, $10, for 356. Alkire, fourth, $5, on 350.

The team match was shot on the second day for the Phellis trophy, six men to a team. The Newark team, holders, held the prize by breaking 270 out of 300, an average of 90 per cent., a fine showing for a six-man team. The Indianola team, of Columbus, broke 266, and the Marietta team 255. Honor score was made by King, of Newark, and Rhoads and Webster, of Columbus, each breaking 48 out of 50. The scores follow:

Traps Favorable.

Oct. 2.—Official reports Commission show that except quail, will be the State this fall, and deer especially are far better than

Dr. Kalbfus expected. Hawks have worked a great deal of damage, and the coveys are few and the number of birds in each is small.

Dr. Kalbfus expects to see an increase in the quail before many years. Sportsmen all over the State are taking a great interest in preserving this bird, and many coveys are trapped every winter and kept housed and fed until spring. This is permitted by law, and in a circular which Dr. Kalbfus issued last spring he urged that it be done wherever possible.

"Many men do it," said Doctor Kalbfus, "and the birds are preserved until spring, only to have them gradually disappear in the talons of hawks when turned loose with the approach of warm weather."

Last winter the Legislature refused to place a bounty upon hawks.

Game in New York State.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 2.—Inasmuch as the open season for killing deer began in New York State some days ago and closes November 15, it is well to quote for the information of hunters the various provisions of the law on the subject. No person shall take more than two deer in an open season. No person shall take any wild deer between sunset and sunrise. There shall be no open season for wild deer in all that portion of Oneida, Lewis and Jefferson counties lying westerly of the Utica and Black River Railroad, from Utica to Ogdensburg before September 1, 1907. Fawns in the spotted or red coat shall not be taken at any time. The taking of deer with traps, salt-licks, or other devices to entice deer, or jack or artificial, or the taking of deer by crusting or while they are varded is prohibited. The owner must accompany the carcass of a deer, or any part thereof, when transported outside of the county where killed. The hounding by dogs is prohibited, and owners of dogs are forbidden to allow them to run at large in forests inhabited by deer. Such a dog may be killed by any person on sight. The closed season for black bear in New York State extends from July 1 to September 30, both inclusive. The closed season for black or gray squirrels extends from December 1 to September 15, both inclusive. Woodcock and grouse (partridges) may be killed from September 16 to November 30, but no person shall take more than 36 of either in any open season. Woodcock or grouse taken in New York State cannot be sold or bartered or transported unless accompanied by the owner.

TRAP IN OREGON.

Crosby and Powers Won Honors at the Medford Shoot.

Medford, Ore., Sept. 25.—The first annual tournament of the Medford Gun Club was held September 22 and 24 with fifty shooters present. The programme consisted of 200 targets each day and 20,000 were trapped. The weather conditions were perfect and the early predictions that good scores would be made were fulfilled.

Besides many local shooters and manufacturers' agents we had with us the old reliable—W. R. Crosby, of O'Fallon, Ill.; Fred Gilbert, of Spirit Lake, Iowa; Rolla Heikes, of Dayton, Ohio; H. C. Hirschy, of Minneapolis, Minn.; J. S. Fanning, of New York; Thomas Marshall, of Keithsburg, Ill., all professionals of the first calibre, and C. M. Powers, of Decatur, Ill., and C. D. Plank, of Denver, Col., the clever amateurs.

Crosby won the high average in the professional class by breaking 394 out of 400, and was presented with a beautifully mounted Mongolian pheasant for doing the trick. He also made runs of 126 and 101 without a miss.

Gilbert came next with 392, and made runs of 118 and 154. The latter is within three birds of the Pacific Coast record, which was made at San Francisco by Mr. Crosby in the interstate tournament. Heikes was next in line, only missing 10 and made a run of 117 without a miss. Fanning created a separation with 381, Marshall with 356 and Hirschy with 361. C. M. Powers shot in his usual good form, only missing 14.

First general average for amateurs was won by C. M. Powers, of Decatur, Ill.; second by M. O. Feudner, of San Francisco, and third by Mr. Varien, of Pacific Grove, Cal.

The lady shooters did well, first general average going to Mrs. Young, of Portland; second to Mrs. Snyder, of the same city, and third to Mrs. Holmes, of Salem.

Miss Hazel Enyart, after breaking the first bird she ever shot at, retired with 100 per cent., beating Crosby for high average; besides, she has the honor of having killed the bear which was served to the shooters at Hotel Nash, with mountain trout also on the bill of fare.

The shoot ended at an early hour on the second day, and for the benefit of many spectators who arrived a little late Messrs. Marshall, Heikes, Hirschy, Gilbert and Powers shot an exhibition match of 50 birds each, Mr. Powers making a clean score.

F. L. Carter and W. A. Hillis, representatives of the Peters Cartridge Company, gave an exhibition of fancy rifle shooting, which was interesting and greatly enjoyed by all.

Most of the shooters left in a special car Saturday evening for Portland and other northwest cities, en route home.

On the first day Crosby led with 197 out of 200. Powers and Gilbert broke 195. On the second day Crosby, Gilbert and Heikes broke 197 out of 200. Powers, Fanning and Feudner 191. The scores follow:
