

Pennsylvania State Championship

Won by Howard J. Schlicher, of Allentown, With

WINCHESTER Factory Loaded SHELLS

Out of 99 contestants, Mr. Schlicher was the one to win the Championship, his score being 190-200. Remarkable to say, he also won High Amateur Average, score 516-555. He used Winchester Shells, which always shoot strong and accurately. Some of the others didn't. Lester German, who won High Professional Average, also used Winchester Shells. J. M. Hawkins, who was second high professional, and C. E. Mink, who was second high amateur, shot Winchester shells and guns. And—well, there was nothing else to win.

That corrugation that you see around the heads of all Winchester shells is a patented feature. It allows for expansion and thus prevents the head from blowing off. It's the latest and best means devised for obviating this trouble and is found only on Winchester shells.

WESTY HOGAN'S BIG MEETING.

nous Organization Plans for Its Atlantic City Shoot.

By Bernard Elsesser.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 28.—An enthusiastic special meeting of Westy Hogans was held in this city on Wednesday evening of the week of the Pennsylvania State shoot, and not a small amount of business pertinent to the welfare of the organization and its 1910 tournament in Atlantic City in September was transacted. There were present besides President Neaf Apgar, who presided, J. Mowell Hawkins, Harry Overbaugh, Lloyd R. Lewis, Frank Lawrence, H. H. Stevens, Sim Glover, James Lewis, T. H. Keller, Jr., H. L. Brown, George Benjamin, Luther Squier and Secretary Bernard Elsesser. Reports from each of the Hogans present were of a nature to indicate that the 1910 Westy Hogan shoot will be about the "noisiest" thing in the trap-shooting line in the East during the present year. The more optimistic Hogans predict that the entry will number 175 shooters. It is generally conceded that there will be not less than 150 shooters, and at least 500 spectators there. The Hogans to a man voted favorably on the proposition to adopt the Squier money-back system for the government of the 1910 shoot. Mr. Squier, who was at the meeting, was immediately appointed chairman of the Program Committee. The other members of the committee are H. H. Stevens, T. H. Keller, Jr., Secretary Elsesser and President Apgar. The committee will get to work at once, and an attractive program is assured. It will be issued about August 1. Other committees were appointed to look after various details in connection with the tournament. An important matter was settled when the organization decided that the programme should be so arranged that each squad will shoot "down the line" twice only on each day, once in the morning and once in the afternoon. This will supply the opportunity for each shooter, after he has "gone down" the first time, to go where he pleases for a couple of hours. It was also agreed to hold the annual meeting of the Hogans on the evening of practice day, September 7, instead of on the evening of the "first day," as heretofore. The result of the meeting was quite satisfactory, and the prospects for a successful tournament are brighter than they have ever been. The usual campaign of publicity will begin at once and the slogan everywhere in trapdom for the next three months will be: "Come to the Westy Hogan shoot at Atlantic City in September!"

HUDSON'S FINE SHOOTING CROWD.

Big Field Competes in Jersey City in the Bi-Monthly Shoot.

By T. H. Kelley.

Jersey City, N. J., May 27.—There was a good turnout of trap shooters at the bi-monthly shoot of the Hudsons on the 22nd inst., despite the day being dark and threatening rain. The program consisted of six 25-target events, No. 3 being the Club Handicap, which was won by W. Raymond, who had the pleasure of carrying the prize to Yonkers, from where he journeys on every shooting day to attend the shoots of the club. Lou Shortey was shooting like a race horse, and easily won high gun with 91 per cent., which is going some at the Hudsons' traps with the wind that was blowing. The trade was represented by C. B. Brown, of the Winchester Company. On June 5 we hold our next club shoot. Scores:

WELL WORTH READING

Is a New Book on Sportsmen's Recreation By C. F. Holder.

Chanler Frederick Holder, the noted author of "Life in the Open," "Southern California" and other works, is out with a new volume that will appeal strongly to all lovers of outdoor sport. It is entitled "Recreations of a Sportsman on the Pacific Coast," and contains 80 full-page illustrations. Mr. Holder has fished in the deep sea of the Pacific and in the mountain streams that are hidden away in the high Sierras and Cascades, protected from the rude intrusions of the crowd and accessible only to the seasoned mountaineer. The tussles he has had with game fish, retold in the dramatic style of which Mr. Holder is the master, will thrill the most phlegmatic, while the descriptions of nature which the author presents will fill the reader with a yearning for the spacious country of mountain, desert, sea, and air, with whose unfrequented trails and remote recesses the author is so familiar.

Richmond Club at Traps.

Richmond, Va., May 28.—The Richmond Gun Club held its regular shoot May 21 and those present spent a most enjoyable afternoon pulverizing clay targets. Martin, one of the old shooters who has not been in the game for the past two years, demonstrated that he can break targets as of old, and won high honors with 89 out of 100. Martin and "Twenty-three" Harold, rivals, shot a 100-bird race, Martin winning out by one bird. "Twenty-three" was the winner up to the last string of 25, but lost his nerve and went out with 20, losing the race. Flippen and "Twenty-three" tied for first place in the club shoot of 50 targets each, breaking 44. Scores:
