Ossining's Holiday Shoot.

Ossining, N. Y., June 3.—Bad weather did not dampen the ardor of those who shot on the grounds of the Ossining Gun Club on Decoration Day. At times when the rain came down in bucketfuls and the hail fell in cartloads it looked like a postponement, but such a torrent couldn't last, and the team race with White Plains was finished. Scores were very low owing to the wind and interference of showers. Blandford won the cup for high score on the Ossining team, while Joe Schirmer annexed the cup for the visitors. A special handicap cup for Ossining Gun Club members was won by Ed. Brewerton. The figures after names denote Ossining's misses-as-breaks handicap in 100. Scores:

Management Arranges for July 4 Event While Holding Club Contests.

By E. W. Poindexter.

Roanoke, Va., June 4.—With weather warm and balmy and every condition ideal for the sport, one of the largest and most enjoyable shoots of the season was held on the club grounds on Saturday afternoon, May 28. Great interest is being manifested by the friends of the club this year, and it is a source of gratification to know that the club is growing rapidly. Especial efforts are now being made by the management of the club to have one of the most attractive and largely attended tournaments for July 4 the club has ever enjoyed, and it is hoped the friends of the club will interest all shooters possible to attend this tournament and participate, membership in the club not being required in order to take part. The weekly medals offered by the club at Saturday's shoot were won by the following members: Scratch medal, W. A. Bloxton; Class A medal, H. D. Winter; Class B medal, H. S. Jones. Lohman Leads Richmond.

Richmond, Va., June 4.—The Richmond Gun Club held its regular shoot May 28, in which some excellent scores were made. Lohman, as has been predicted, came to the front and won high honors, going out with 47 out of 50, with a run of 40 straight, being the largest run made by any member of the club since the season opened. Flippen continues his good shooting, and won second honors, with 46 out of 50, which is much better than the average for an amateur shooter. Kay has been doing excellent work, but his gun broke down and he did not shoot up to his usual form. Scott, an old shooter of the by-gone days, made his appearance at the traps for the first time in several years, and his score will attest that he has not lost his shooting eye, but with a few evenings' practice will be a top-notch. Lawrence tied Lohman, the high man, in 25, each breaking 24, equivalent to 96 per cent., which is professional shooting. Score:
