HAMMOND RETAINS TITLE

Holder of Delaware Title Defends It Against J. T. Roberson, 81 to 80.

Wilmington, Del., January 12.—Ward M. Hammond successfully defended his title to the Delaware State Championship on January 10 at Du Pont Gun Club by defeating J. T. Roberson 81 to 80. The strong wind played havoc with scores. In the contest for the Class B, Eugene du Pont challenge cup, N. K. Smith, the challenger, defeated J. W. Anderson, Jr., the holder, by a score of 36 to 31. The Class C, Eugene du Pont challenge cup was contested between E. M. Ross, the holder, and W. G. Robelen. Ross retained the cup, breaking 34 out of the 50 targets shot at, while Robelen had a score of 26 out of the 50. J. B. McHugh made the highest score of the day out of a string of one hundred targets with 92, and W. A. Joslyn made the highest score out of a string of 50 targets. The men who made high scores in the different classes, and who were awarded Coleman du Pont spoons were: Class A—J. B. McHugh, 24 out of 25. Class B—Eugene Leedom, 22 out of 25. Class C—F. H. Hard Conditions at Anolatan

Washington, D. C., January 12.—The Anolatan Gun Club's members encountered adverse conditions at their shoot on the 10th. The wind blew a gale from the Northwest, and carried the right-angle targets over into an adjoining field at least 100 yards. The consequence was that when a member drew several of them while on No. 5 position, goose eggs as a rule were scored against him. Geo. A. Emmons made the good score of 84. Of course, Frank H. Huseman led the procession with 93. Following are the scores:

HIGH SCORING AT PALEFACE

Fresno Leads Amateurs With 98 and Sibley Tops Professionals.

Wellington, Mass., January 9.—Fresno was high amateur gun at the first of the telegraphic shoots over the Paleface traps on January 7, breaking 98 of 100 targets in a field of 24 shooters. The conditions were almost ideal for shooting and the scores were uniformly high. Dr. W. C. Newton, of Revere, was second high gun with a total of 97. The ten highest totals on the first 25 targets on the program were taken as the score of the Paleface Club in the competition with the other clubs of the country that are taking part in the telegraphic trap shooting contest. The high scores made by the ten highest guns aggregated 245. McArdle, Fresno, Steele, Smith and Williams each made a total of 25. Osborn, Dr. Newton, Frank, Clark and Davis scored 24 each. A. E. Sibley was high professional and high gun with a total of 99. Horace Kirkwood, of Chicago, the former Paleface governor general, was second high professional with a score of 97. Scores:
