S. S. WHITE'S FIRST SHOOT

A. B. Thompson Wins Two Trophies Under New Conditions.

Philadelphia, Pa., January 19.—The S. S. White Gun Club held its first shoot of the 1914 season at Holmesburg Junction on January 17. New conditions went into force. A. B. Thompson, who broke 47 out of the first 50, availed himself of his privilege of withdrawing then and counting his score for his last 50, and as a consequence, with his handicap of 14 he had a perfect score and won the trophy as well as Class B prize. J. Griffith won Class A honors with 94. In Class C, F. T. McConnell won, while in D class, T. E. Hinkson won the honors. Scores:

Blackmer Winner at Audubon

Buffalo, N. Y., January 19.—At the Buffalo Audubon Gun Club on January 17 high scores were again out of the question on account of weather conditions. A high Northwest wind which turned very cold towards evening blew across the traps. Blackmer again demonstrated he is some shooter by breaking 91x100 and finishing the Marlin gun event with 24x25, which puts him in the lead for the gun to date. Scores:
