BUSY DAYS AT OSSINING TRAPS

Good Entry List at the Holiday and Weekly Trap Contests.

Ossining, N. Y., November 30.—The Ossining Gun Club had two shoots over the week-end. On Thanksgiving Day 20 went to the traps. Bedell and Blandford tied for amateur honors with 88. The professional leader was H. H. Stevens, who cracked 93 out of 100. W. H. Coleman won the Du Pont pin with 87 out of 100. Scores:

Dan Tomlinson Holland Star

Batavia, N. Y., November 28.—The Holland Gun Club finished its regular season on November 27, with fairly good scores, considering a gale of wind. Tomlinson won first prize and Childs second for the day's program—both cut glass trophies. For the year's shooting—all handicaps according to the Du Pont system—Dan Tomlinson was high, winning first prize, a double shotgun donated by the Baker Gun and Forging Co.; Gardiner, three targets behind, was second, winning $5 in gold, donated by Mr. Tomlinson. We shot a program once a month for eight months. The first six programs to qualify. The Du Pont system seemed to figure out quite fair when the four guns were only four targets apart. Scores follow:
